Took his feet and _____ them a little bit and nailed to cross.

C.S.Lewis, The Four Loves (New York: Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, 1960), p. 176... The buzzing cloud of flies about the cross, the flayed back pressed against the uneven stake, the nails driven through the medial nerves, the repeated torture of back and arms as it is time after time, for breath's sake, hitched up. If I may dare the biological image, God is a "host" who deliberately creates his own parasites; causes us to be that we may exploit and "take advantage of" him. Herein is love. This is the diagram of Love himself, the inventor of all loves."

Phillips... In the courtyard of this church is a tall crucifix. On one side of this cross, high and lifted up, is a figure of Christ. On the other side of this cross, back to back with him, nailed to the cross with him, is a figure of the virgin Mary. Nor is this simply the expression of some artist's exaggerated enthusiasm for Mary. Official roman Catholic dogma teaches not only the immaculate conception of the "the blessed virgin Mary" and her bodily corporeal presence in heaven, not only that people should bow before her images, light candles to her, and pray to her, but they call her "co-redemptrix." By that the church of Rome means that Mary is just as much our redeemer as Christ. No wonder Jesus sent her away from the cross!

So What?

1. Real _____ Romans 5:8

Hughes: Love is the Son of God hanging by his arms, his muscles paralyzed and unable to respond. Love is God's Son fighting to raise himself in order to get just one short breath. Love is carbon dioxide mounting in the lungs, cramps partially subsiding, allowing our Lord to push himself spasmodically upward for life-giving oxygen. This is a picture of God's love. Still, it is only suggestive of His deeper love, His willingness to bear our sin and suffer separation from His beloved Father.
